

Kevin M. Blakeman

President, SurfControl U.S. Operations

In July 2000, Kevin Blakeman was named President for SurfControl U.S. Operations. Blakeman joined SurfControl in 1998 as Vice President of Strategic Partners, cultivating relationships with such companies as Microsoft, IBM, Hewlett-Packard, and Cisco. In November 1999 Blakeman advanced to General Manager of SurfControl's newest acquisition, SurfWatch -- the company invented Internet content filtering for the education and home markets.

About SurfControl

SurfControl is the worldwide leader in responsible Internet usage offering a complete line of Internet filtering solutions based on Expert Filtering, Pass-Through and Pat.Pending Pass-By Technologies. The SurfControl family of products includes a comprehensive line of Internet monitoring and policy management solutions including SuperScout - for the Midsize to large Enterprises; Little Brother - for Small Growing Networks; SurfWatch - Trusted Filtering for the Home and Education Markets; and the Cyber Patrol family of products. SurfControl's U.S. headquarters are located in Scotts Valley, CA.